

DIOGO EVANGELISTA | BIOGRAPHY

Diogo Evangelista (1984, Portugal) lives and works in Lisbon.

Diogo Evangelista develops an artistic practice that explores the delicate intersections between nature, technology, perception, and transformation. Through diverse media and series, he investigates the liminal spaces where scientific observation, mythological imagination, and personal experience converge. Each of his works seeks to challenge traditional boundaries of representation, inviting viewers to contemplate the ephemeral and interconnected nature of existence. Deeply fascinated by symbols of transition — butterflies, eggs, lightning, reflections — which serve as metaphorical vehicles for understanding complex existential narratives. His approach is simultaneously introspective and universal, employing techniques that range from traditional watercolor to advanced computational representations. He aims to create visual languages that transcend mere aesthetic experience, transforming viewers' perceptions of reality, identity, and interconnectedness.

Themes of regeneration, uniqueness, and systemic interdependence are central to his work. Whether exploring the individual pattern of a butterfly, the cosmic potential of an unknown planet, or the spectral movements of digital spirits, Evangelista constantly challenges viewers to see beyond surface appearances and recognize the profound complexity underlying seemingly simple forms. His art is a continuous dialogue between the physical and metaphysical, between personal experience and universal symbolism — an ongoing exploration of how we perceive, interpret, and connect with the world around us.
